Toolwiz File Recovery

Toolwiz File Recovery is a freeware application that is used to scan for the free space on your computer's drive and then recover files that have been deleted. Thanx a lot.. It worked when I first tried it.. I only had to copy the registration code I had gotten in the email. I had no idea how to use the registration code. Then it gave me the option to click the box that said "go to the registration area" and it wanted me to enter the registration code. I wasn't really sure what to do. Anyways, it told me "thanks for registering to this file recovery software" and then it was okay. I was able to use it. I had to do the same thing for the toolwiz file recovery registration program. What I did was go to this link: and it was very easy to figure out how to enter the registration code and it was very simple. Everything worked perfectly. It recovered all my files from my drive. It works! I have no idea why you are telling me that it doesn't work. I had the same problem and it did it for me. I am not sure why it would not work for you. Maybe you can go into the registration code link and make sure that you entered the code that it told you to enter and then try it again. Because if it works for you, then it should work for me. Best regards, shawn_p All right, I'll check it out. P.S. I thought that you were telling me that it wouldn't work. I thought that it was going to be impossible for you to use it. I thought that you wanted me to go to a page and enter a code. If I'm wrong, then I'm sorry. I didn't realize that it wasn't going to work for you. Let me know what happens. You may also want to report your results to the user group. Best regards, shawn_p Maybe it would be easier if I just told you what I did. I went to the link you gave me. I went to the registration code page. I read the instructions on that page. I put in the code and clicked the
