Heroes' Memories is the main title that is included with the Legend of Heroes: Trails of Cold Steel III. This bundle will be available until December 16, 2018 (JST). Gallery of the Day Chihuahua Chihuahua The traditional Chihuahua is a tiny version of the big dog. Often considered to be the smallest breed in the dog family, the Chihuahua is a very lively dog. Appearance Because of its small size, the Chihuahua is very pretty. It is slightly longer than it is tall, and the head is smaller than the body. The ear is flat and hangs far out to the side of the head. The tail is covered with hair, except for the end. There is a soft undercoat of fur. The Chihuahua has a coat of medium length, usually from the shoulders to the ground. Color The most common color is a roan color, but there are also red, chocolate, black and sable. The undercoat can have shades of gray or the colors of the hound coat. In exceptional cases, tan or brown can occur. Temperament The Chihuahua is lively and jolly. He is a friendly and honest dog, that rarely shows aggression unless it comes from fear. He is strong, stubborn and very well mannered. He tends

As the giant mining and construction operation in the center of the city of Escobar explodes, it's up to you to manage it — with the right tools and technology. You'll need to dig deeper and deploy advanced modules to boost your progress and fill your excavator's load capacity. Use an arsenal of mining and construction gear, including a variety of aerials, drills, rock drills, rockbreakers, grippers, and more! As you excavate the area beneath the city, you'll be digging up tons of ore, building up your stockpile, and expanding the city. But don't forget to build the infrastructure you need, too. Cross-linked machinery and tracks are all part of the plan as you speed your way through the city, all while collecting lost souls to feed a hungry demon. Be sure to build up your capacity and prepare for the upcoming Big Dig! Performs even faster mining for a set amount of time, and builds ore into the Excavator's cargo capacity in one trip Building time slows down when there is no ore in the stockpiles. Resource gathering speed increases steadily when you unlock more upgrades.

Q: EAGLView error with CLLocationManager delegate I'm having some trouble with the EAGLView sample on iPhone Dev Center. I'm trying to create a CLLocation manager that uses the MKMapView to get the user location. I've gotten to this point, but when the CLLocationManager does get the location, it's sending me an error: "Illegal parameter in call to EAGLView's drawFrame(). State= 2". My code is listed below. I have a feeling it's an EAGLView problem, but I don't know how to fix it. Any ideas?

// Add the CLLocationManager delegate methods
#import #import
"GLView.h" #import @interface GLView :
    GLViewController { IBOutlet
    CLLocationManager *locationManager; } @end @implementation GLView - (id)initWithFrame:(CGRect)frame { if (self.superclass->initWithFrame:frame) {

Review I played and reviewed Grisaia

Phantom Trigger a couple months back and thought I would talk about some of the background music that I used on this game. In fact, I wished I had bought the OST on the day it was released. I had a huge backlog of games that I wanted to listen to the music from and Grisaia was high on the list. Not to mention I watched too much anime and enjoyed it, so I never felt like I was getting old and passed a point where I can't enjoy certain stuff anymore. Anyway, I immediately wanted to listen to the soundtrack and just realized that it didn't come with the game. Not to worry! I was able to quickly find the OST on CDJapan, download it and replace the Grisaia Ending to use in my game... except I couldn't find a full download or purchase option for it. So I contacted CDJapan by email and eventually got in contact with a nice customer service person. He promised to send me an email with their file (I checked my spam folder!) and after a day or so, the email came in. I opened the email to this (right click on image to see whole thing bigger): Yes! I was able to download and copy the soundtrack right to my game. I pressed play and here's the first track: I know there are far more good tracks in this album than any of the ones I had heard so far. This is the first Grisaia album I have listened to and I will definitely pick up future volumes as well.

And anyone who hasn't played Grisaia definitely needs to add it to their backlog, particularly with the OST being completely free! Back to BGM Masterthoughts... I didn't really plan my OST playlist until late, right before my main save point so this is a small selection from the end. By the way, I've also listed out all my save points (spoilers!) from the start to my final stop: The OST is on the soundtrack if you have it with no OSTs, the OST is on Disc4 if you have it with OSTs. The games These are games I've completed that have OSTs. If you want to call these games, you need to read a game note at the start of this section, 'game note'

In the ever expanding universe of the Age of Wonders, there are no safe worlds. No single race holds dominion over all of space. Every star system is fighting for power. Alliances are formed and broken, and the factions are all out for your scalp. The captains of your fleet are driven to ever increasing expansion and prosperity, while your enemies are only too happy to watch the circus from the side-lines. But a war has erupted among the factions. A lot of blood has been spilt. It is up to you and your allies to put an end to the bloodshed, heal the wounds and restore the world to its former glory, once again. Description The Age of Wonders: Planetfall is a living civilization simulator. Instead of focusing on combat, it puts your survival and industry to the test in a 3D global scale. But there is always hope. No matter what happens, the Age of Wonders universe continues to grow. In the civilization that developed between 2200 and 2050, you take command of the leader of the population of a single planet. Rebuild your society from the ground up, expand your powers and lead an incredible adventure. This is Age of Wonders: Planetfall. Key Features: A living sandbox: Each planet you build will have its own unique ecosystem, geology and ecosystem. The continent where your planet is located will also play a role in how you settle the planet. Epic scope: You have access to every technology and every structure from antiquity up to the 2040s. Your planet will span dozens of kilometers in every direction and you'll have tens of thousands of citizens to lead. Build it from scratch: Start from the most basic of structures and go all the way to the most elaborate of power plants. In the game, your planet is always your baby, and you'll take care of it as if it's your own flesh and blood. Real-time simulation: Today's technology, the economy and population are updated every 5 minutes. A new day brings new events, challenges and opportunities. The complete sandbox: There are over 50 technologies to apply to your cities and research to get. Four factions come with the game, and they each have unique bonuses and drawbacks. Each faction also has its own unique tactical units. Deep strategy: Play as any of the factions, or build your own. Every planet should have its
